

Video Production Services

Taking the rocket science out of making videos

Modern Casual

starting at $2,000

When you want to be direct and deliver an authentic message, Modern Casual Videos are the way to go. They are great for webinars, YouTube, social media, presentations, How-To's and other explainer-type content. They are conversational and the content is led by you. We capture the experience, so the audience feels like they are sitting in the room with you with this no nonsense, simple production style.

Classic Essential

starting at $4,000

When you need a more traditional video with a little sizzle, Classic Essential is the style for you. These are great for product videos, company overviews, investor videos, and all promotional content. We work with you to create a high-energy, brief, and compelling version of the story you need to tell. Loaded up with music and cool additional footage, this style will get and keep the attention of your audience.

Add-On Packages

starting at $2,000

Big ideas sometimes need big productions. We offer a wide variety of packages including on-site filming, engineering simulation, drone work, and much more.

Learn more at lsas-tec.com/video